Tiger Jeet Singh and Tiger Ali Singh, to be named Honourary Police Officers with Halton Regional Police

The Halton Regional Police Service is proud to announce it is honoring Milton's wrestling and philanthropic family, Tiger Jeet Singh and Tiger Ali Singh, as honorary police officers. The Tigers' new police status is part of a local "Community First" campaign to enhance community safety and well-being across the Region of Halton.

What: Honourary Police Officer Presentation

Chief Stephen Tanner will present Tiger Jeet Singh and Tiger Ali Singh with their honorary police officer badges at the annual Halton Heroes event and officially welcome them as police ambassadors with the Halton Regional Police Service.

When: Friday, September 16, 2016
6:00 p.m.

Where: Burlington Convention Centre
1120 Burloak Drive, Burlington, Ontario L7L 6P8

Why: The Halton Regional Police Service contributes to the safety and well-being of the Region of Halton's more than 550,000 residents. Our policing philosophy is based on the concept that police officers and private citizens need to work together to ensure Halton remains as safe tomorrow as it is today. In their role as honorary police officers, the Tigers will join Chief Stephen Tanner and the members of the Halton Regional Police in their continued efforts to promote community safety and well-being.
